

TODAY IS YOUR BIRTHDAY!!!

And that means we start your very special day with a very special BIRTHDAY BREAKFAST!

We made all of your favorites . . .

Aardvark Bagels, Clam
Doughnuts, Eel Fritters,
Grilled Hummingbirds,
Iguana Jelly, Koala
Lemonade, Mongoose and
Nuts, Orangutan Pancakes,
Quetzal Raisin bread,
Snake Tortillas, Unicorn and Vegetable juice, Walrus in XO sauce, and for dessert a
Yak Zabaglione!

Chatty Kitty has brought you such a nice-looking present. Why don't you open it right now! (Do you think I could borrow some of that paper to put in my ears?)

*A moth got into the house the other day, only I wasn't sure if it was a moth or a butterfly because it was big like a butterfly but brown and gray like a moth, and I tried to catch it but it flew too high for me, which is good because some butterflies are poisonous if you eat them, which is gross, but sometimes I can't help myself. It didn't matter, though, because it turned out to be just a feather anyway.

Look, Kitty! It's . . . a collection of old mothballs she found in the closet.

*They also ward off butterflies. Don't eat them!

I guess kitties aren't the best gift givers. Oh, well. Let's put them on the table where they'll be safe.

IT'S PRETTY KITTY!

Pretty Kitty is the prettiest kitty in the whole neighborhood.

And she knows it.

She's won over a dozen cat shows.

All of the boy kitties are madly in love with her.

